A Child's Call.

A lady living not far from the corner of Lafayette and Second atreets, received an afternoon call from a little six-year-old, asternoon call from a little six-year-oid, which illustrated the progress children in Detroit are making. The little one rang the bell, and being ushered in, said: "How do you do, Mrs.—I forgot your name—my name is Hallie—. I saw you over to Mama's house the other day, and as Mamma was busy I thought I would return your call. Ma doesn't know it, but I don't ear."

The little one was heartily welcomed nd after she had gazed around for a while and after she had gazed around for a while she asked:

"What time do you dine?"

"Five o'clock," replied the lady.

"We slways have dinner at 2 o'clock but I guees I can wait. Can I stay?"

"Oh, certainly—glad to have you," said the lady.

Then the little one removed her pretty wrappings, her dainty hat and gloves. Hearing he lady of the house call her servant Katie, she took advantage of the mistress' absence for a moment to run down stains into the dining-room.

"Katie, come here," she cried. "What are you going to have for dinner?"

"Soup, heefsteak, sweet potatoes and

"Soup, beefsteak, sweet potatoes and de," meekly replied Katie. "What kind of pie?"

"What sind or pres"
"Cranberry."
"Well, put lots of sugar in the pie and lots of gravy on the steak, sure."
Then the little caller skipped up stairs, and soon became joily friends with the lady of the house. She was very serious in her conversation, and asked why young latter had to wait so long to be married. ladies had to wait so long to be married. Then she told the lady in all confidence Then she told the lady in all confidence that she had already received a proposal, but had not yet concluded to say yes. The lady was considerably struck with the prodigy, and drew her out upon all sorts of subjects. Finally the child went to the piano and offered to sing an original song. "I always make up my songs," she said, and then she began in a mournful minor key, as follows:

and then she began in a mournful minor key, as follows:

When I sm deal and in my ceffin,
My manuach, she won't care for nothin,
My manuach, she won't care for nothin,
Our folks will ery,
The hearse will come,
And the band, with a drum,
And takeme to the sweet by-and-bye.
Continuing this sort of rhyme, she described her funeral, the mourners, the procession to the "buryin' ground," where Sriking all the time discordant thirds and fifths, the little one entered into the spirit of the song so much that the tears rolled down her face at the rectial and the lady buried her face in her handkerchiefto cover her smiles. Just as the hostess had promised to have her husband "put plenty of gravy" on the little girl's steak, a lady, flushed and excited, rang the bell. It was the little caller's mother, and she had been scouring the neighborhood for some hours with horrible thoughts of kidnapping rushing through her brain.

The steak with "plenty of gravy" is waiting for the little one yet.

Contention of the base with a sigh.

"Oh, by the way," said Bickels, as he sat on the side of the bed pulling off his boots, "I saw a gentleman down town to-day who would give $1,000 to see you."

"Who was he? Does he live in Little Book?" Rock?"
"I don't know his name."
"I'll warrant that it was Oliver Gregg."

"No."
"Then he must be George Weatherton."
"Guess again. I might know his name

"Because he's blind."

Probabilities for February.

Tennor's Almanac.
The mild spell with which January closes will probably continue well into this month, with the exception of a day or two, up to the 12th of the month, with balmy, spring-like weather prevailing in many parts, and snow rapidly disappearing. A couple of days of blustering weather, with rain or snow, will be followed by snow storms and cold weather throughout Ontario and the Western United States. This term will be followed about the 16th by storms of wind, rain and snow, previous to the setting in of a colder term. With the beginning of the last week of the month brilliant, mild, spring-like weather will again appear, melting the snow and rendering sleighing impossible in some localities. A few days before the close of the month high winds are likely to prevail, with gales around New York, Long closes will probably continue well into calities. A few days before the close of the month high winds are likely to prevail, with gales around New York, Long Island Sound and other points, with blustry weather in Canada and the Northern United States. The last two days are, however, likely to be fair, and the month will end with a little snow on the ground.

lelegraph companies having a very favorable influence on the market for the time. This improvement was lost near the close in some instances, the principal weakness having been in the granger, traink line and telegraph shares. The aton & Terre Haute preferred and Oregon were marked exceptions to the general lat. The former fell off from 135½ to 129½, rose to 140 and closed at a reaction of 5 per cent, while the Oregon declined from 164 to 150½ and rose to 177. There were also exceptions to the general market in low priced shares, notably Lake Erie & Western, Peoria, Decatur & Evansville, Ohio Central, and Northern Pacific. Rievated Railrond shares were prominent in the dealings at intervals during the week and were strong and higher. The noticeable feature of the week was the large dealings in low priced shares which continued to attract much of the speculative interest.

Publication is made here to-day that a New York, Chlesgo & St. Louis Railroad Company has been organized with a capital of $16,000,000, of which $15,000,000 has been taken by a Syndicate, which has deposited 10 per cent of the subscription in cash. It is proposed to build a line from Cleveland to Chlesgo, also to extend the line from Ft. Wayne Junction 10 St. Louis. The company has purchased fifty-tix miles of the Wabsah Canal, which gives it a right of way in Ft. Wayne 250 feet broad. The time from Cleveland to Chlesgo hours.

to St. Louis. The company has purchased fifty-its miles of the wassah Canal, which gives it a right of way in Ft. Wayne 250 feet broad. The line from Cleveland to Chicago is to be completed this year, and to St. Louis by July, 1882.

Regarding the extension of the new road eastward nothing has been decided on. The capitalists interested in this new project are prominently identified with the Lake Erie & Western, Ohio Central and Peoria, Decatur & Evansville Companies. Mr. French, auditor of railroad accounts. maintains that the Northern Pacific Railrord Company has a right to the decision of the Attorney-General that all lands granted are the property of the company, unless Congress should, by special act, deciare them forfeited. Three hundred and seven thousand, two hundred and twenty-live shures of the Western Union atok voted in favor of, and six hundred against consolidation, 74% per cent of the entire stock represented.
